

Paolo G. Casali, M.D.

Paolo Giovanni Casali, Associate Professor of Medical Oncology at the University of Milan, is Director of the Medical Oncology Unit 2 (on "adult mesenchymal tumours and rare cancers") at the Istituto Nazionale Tumori, Milan, Italy, where he also serves as Secretary of the Ethics Committee.

He is a member of the Executive Board of the European Society for Medical Oncology (ESMO), as Chair of the Public Policy Steering Committee and the EU Policy Committee. He is member of Board of Directors of the Connective Tissue Oncology Society (CTOS).

His clinical and research activities focus on sarcomas, mainly adult soft tissue sarcomas and gastrointestinal stromal tumors (GIST). He is Secretary of the Italian Sarcoma Group and a member of the Soft Tissue & Bone Sarcoma Group of the European Organisation for Research and Treatment of Cancer (EORTC). He is a founder and coEditor-in-chief of Clinical Sarcoma Research, an open-access journal on sarcoma, and a member of the ESMO Sarcoma Faculty.

In the area of rare cancers, he coordinates the Joint Action on Rare Cancers (JARC), carried out within the framework of the Third Health Programme of the European Union (EU) with 34 partners and 18 EU Member States, and chairs the Sarcoma domain of EURACAN, the European Reference Network on rare adult solid cancers. He coordinates the Steering committee of Rare Cancers Europe, an ESMO-launched multistakeholder initiative to address the many issues posed by rare cancers.

He is (co)author of more than 230 papers in peer-reviewed medical journals.
