In addition, over the past 5-10 years, I have been a member or chairman of clinical/scientific advisory boards to a number of UK-based/international pharmaceutical companies, (including Cyclacel, Boehringer-Ingelheim, PharmaMar, Kudos, Astex, OSI, Roche, Merck, Johnson & Johnson, AstraZeneca, GSK & Astellas). I have also been a member/chairman of 10 data monitoring committees for international clinical trials in cancer. I have acted as Grant Assessor (and Member of Site Visit Committees) for Cancer Research UK, CRC, MRC, Irish Cancer Society, ICRF, AICR, North of England CRC, Academy of Medical Sciences and others.

Over the past 5 years, I have given 35 invited lectures at various national and international meetings, including 4 Award lectures. I have held four visiting professorships in other universities and have held research grants totaling almost £9million. My main current research interests include drug development in cancer, and ovarian cancer and I have published over 400 peer-reviewed papers, 105 invited reviews and have edited 6 books*.

Having retired from the ICR in December 2013, I now have 4 new roles:

- a) Professor of Medical Oncology and Senior Fellow to the Biomedical Research Centre at the Royal Marsden Hospital – continuing to provide advice to the tumour teams on their drug development programs.
- b) Director of Research for London Cancer Alliance (LCA) – now translated to Royal Marsden and Partners Cancer Vanguard. This is a new model of integrated cancer care and as its first Director of Research, I have responsibility for developing its Research Strategy, with a particular focus on improving outcomes of treatment and patient experience.
- c) Visiting professor at the University of Singapore – advising on their plans for an enlarged Drug Development Unit as well as having a role in mentoring. I also chair the New Agents in Cancer Committee (NACC), in Singapore.
- d) Visiting Professor at University of Glasgow – advising on their strategy for translational cancer research.
